OFFICERS PROBE HARRIS MYSTERY

Coroner Continues Inquest After Reports and Suspicions of Foul Play Are Heard.

TO HEAR EVIDENCE TONIGHT

Philos Culbertson, Negro Who Stayed at Ashland Farm, Examined Last Night.

INCIDENT OF THE TELEPHONE

Rushville Woman Talked to Mrs. Harris at 9:50 Tuesday—Couldn't Get Answer at 10:10.

Rumors of foul play in connection with the fire at Ashland farm and the terrible death of Mrs. L. B. Harris, Tuesday afternoon were rife today. Dr. A. G. Shauck of Arlington, county coroner, is investigating all the reports that come to him by continuing the inquest started Tuesday evening when a few witnesses were examined. An inquest was held here last night and it was expected that more evidence would be gathered at an inquest to be held late today or tonight.

Officials who are acquainted with the testimony that has already been given at the inquests could not divulge any of the evidence until the probe has been completed. It is not expected that the verdict of the coroner will be forthcoming for some time yet.

It is understood that the officers have some incriminating evidence which is not in the form of testimony. There is much speculation around the city today as to just what the outcome of the inquest will be.

Philos Culbertson, age twenty-two, the colored man who has been staying at the Harris home, and who, together with Paul Harris, were the last persons who were known to have left Ashland farm Tuesday morning, were examined by the coroner last night.

There are many people who have held tenaciously to the theory that there was something strange about the fire and the death of Mrs. Harris. Many of her friends think it rather peculiar that she should not have called some one, if she were not dead before she discovered the fire in her house, if she ever did discover it.

One incident in connection with the tragedy has come to light which reveals that whatever happened to Mrs. Harris, apparently occurred between ten minutes to ten and ten minutes after ten Tuesday morning. Mrs. A. L. Aldridge talked to Mrs. Harris over the telephone at ten minutes to ten. At ten minutes after ten she called the Harris home by telephone, and repeatedly thereafter until twelve o'clock, but failed to get in communication with Mrs. Harris again.

Mrs. Aldridge knows that only twenty minutes elapsed between the time she talked to Mrs. Harris and the time she called the first time by telephone. She called Mrs. Harris at ten minutes to ten to learn if Mrs. Harris could come to Rushville Tuesday afternoon to practice for the Ladies' Musical. Mrs. Harris said that she could and Mrs. Aldridge promised to let her know if the music could be obtained so that practice could be held.

She found it would be impossible to get the music and called Mrs. Harris by phone at ten minutes after ten. She thought it strange at that time that Mrs. Harris did not answer the telephone since Mrs. Harris was expecting a message from her. The failure to get an answer to her repeated calls worried Mrs. Aldridge slightly, and she rang up, possibly twenty times before noon.

Finally she called the trouble man at exchange and learned that the line to Ashland farm was in good condition, and that the bell was ringing, but was not answered. Mrs. Aldridge called Mrs. Vern Norris and asked her to call Mrs. Harris by phone and tell her not to come to Rushville to practice. Mrs. Norris could not arouse anyone at Ashland farm. She told Mrs. Aldridge Mrs. Harris had not passed her home and that if she did she would stop her (Mrs. Harris) and give her the message.

The funeral services over the body of Mrs. Harris were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wallace this afternoon, and were conducted by the Rev. J. B. Meacham of the First Presbyterian church and the Rev. W. H. Clark of the Connersville Presbyterian church. The funeral was not private. Burial was made in East Hill cemetery.

Among the relatives from out of the city who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Perry, Mrs. W. R. Davis and children, Marion Knitnburg and W. E. Maxwell of Indianapolis; Miss Roberta Harris of Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John Mettel of Connersville; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Young and daughter, Grace of Kokomo, and Mr. and Mrs. Will White of near this city. Mrs. Young is the surviving sister and Mr. White is the surviving brother.

WOULD USURP AUTHORITY

Town Superintendent Can't Do County Superintendent's Work.

In an opinion to a superintendent of a town school, the state superintendent of public instruction, Charles A. Greathouse, says that a town superintendent may not take the place of a county superintendent in holding examinations and granting diplomas to pupils desiring to be graduated from the eighth grade. The superintendent wished to use the questions sent out for the grade examinations by the state board, grade the answers himself and issue the diplomas. The state superintendent says this is the duty of the county superintendent.

MERCHANTS WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Successors to Present Officials Will be Chosen at Regular Meeting Next Thursday Night.

DESIRE LARGE ATTENDANCE

The next regular meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants Association will be held one week from tonight. The session will be of special importance because it is the meeting at which new officers will be elected. Anthony Schlichte, president, Will O. Feudner, secretary, and G. P. Hunt, treasurer, will retire, and their successors must be chosen. It is urged that the merchants turn out for this gathering since it is of great importance to the association that the will of the majority be expressed in selecting officials. Early announcement of the annual election was suggested by the officers who will retire as they desire the merchants turn out to elect their successors.

HARD ON DIVORCED.

The Henry county ministers, in their monthly meeting this week, adopted a resolution to the effect that they will not marry divorced persons, except the innocent party when the divorce was granted for adultery, recognized by them as the one just cause for securing a divorce.

PROMINENT FARMER AND LODGEMAN DIES

J. C. Smith, Age 55, Succumbs to Chronic Nephritis at His Home Near Williamstown.

FUNERAL WILL BE SATURDAY

J. C. Smith, age fifty-five years, a prominent and well-to-do farmer living a quarter of a mile east of Williamstown, near the Rush-Decatur county line, died last night of chronic nephritis. He has been seriously ill with the disease for the last three weeks and no hope has been held out for his recovery. His health began failing some months ago, but his condition has not been critical except in the last few weeks.

Mr. Smith owned the large farm on which he lived. He was a member of the Masonic, Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows lodges. The deceased is survived by a widow and two children, Roy and Pearl. The funeral services will be held in the Sandusky Methodist church Saturday morning at ten o'clock and burial will take place in Greensburg. The Masons and Odd Fellows lodges to which he belonged will be in charge.

DELEGATES OF 2 KINDS IN FIELD

Lively Contest is Expected in City Republican Convention Here Tomorrow Night.

ROOSEVELT TICKET IN FIELD

Delegates Favorable to Taft and Favorable to Ex-President Are Seeking Election.

The Rushville convention, which will be held in the court house assembly room Friday night to elect delegates from the township for five different conventions, promises to be fraught with interest as there are two tickets in the field for three of the conventions, and a lively contest is anticipated.

There are two sets of delegates for the State, congressional and joint senatorial conventions. For the State and congressional convention, one set of delegates favors the renomination of President Taft and the other set favors the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president.

The same fight will be waged in Rushville township outside the city, also, when that convention is held in the court house assembly room Saturday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock to elect delegates to the same conventions. Taft and Roosevelt delegates are both in the field.

The two townships will all hold meetings Saturday to elect delegates to the five conventions. The issues on the presidential nomination will not be drawn so closely in the out townships, it is said, although some Roosevelt adherents here are asserting that a few of the townships will instruct their delegates to both the congressional and State conventions to vote for Roosevelt delegates to the national convention. It is thought, however, that a majority of the delegates to be elected Saturday will be instructed to vote for Taft national convention delegates.

A. L. Riggs and Will Frazee are the Taft delegates to the State convention. They are making their campaign on the avowed intention of voting for four delegates at large to represent Indiana in the national convention and vote for the renomination of Taft.

The two Taft delegates from Rushville to the congressional convention are Will O. Feudner and Dr. W. S. Coleman. If elected they will vote for two delegates from the Sixth district to the national convention to vote for Taft.

The Taft delegate from Rushville township outside of the city to the State convention is William A. Posey. The Taft delegate for the same territory to the congressional convention is George W. Krammes.

There are Roosevelt delegates out to oppose all of the Taft delegates. Dan Kinney and Ben McFarlan will appear before the Rushville convention and ask to be sent to the State convention to vote for delegates at large who will support Roosevelt. W. A. Alexander is the Roosevelt candidate to the State convention for the township outside the city.

The names of Chase Maury and Ab Denning will be presented at the city convention as Roosevelt delegates to the congressional convention. Earl Winship will be presented as the Roosevelt delegate from outside the city to the congressional convention.

In addition to serving in the special State convention at Indianapolis on Tuesday, March 26 to elect four delegates at large from Indiana to the national convention, the State delegates elected Friday night and Saturday will serve in the regular State nominating convention, the date for which has not yet been set.

There are two tickets in the field from the city of Rushville for the joint senatorial convention which will be held in Connersville Thursday, March 28, although there are no presidential delegates at stake. The two delegates will be elected and the four following men are candidates for the election, Harvey Cowing, Frank Reynolds, Wade Sherman and Ed Crosby. There are three candidates for joint senator as follows: Henry E. Guffin of this county, and Chauncey Duncan and Walter Bridges of Hancock county.

Delegates to the county convention, which will be held Saturday, March 30, and to the Rush-Shelby judicial circuit convention, the date of which has not been set will be elected also.

O. P. MORTON ONCE HELD COURT HERE

Old Records in Court House Reveal That Indiana's War Governor Presided Here.

IN SPRING TERM OF YEAR 1852

Oliver P. Morton, the war governor of Indiana, presided in the Rush circuit court once upon a time. The fact was discovered by Birney Spradling, deputy clerk, while looking over some old court records in the clerk's office the other day. Gov. Morton acted as judge here one whole term. It was in the spring of 1852. The records for that term bear his signature for each day court was held. Gov. Morton lived in Centerville, Wayne county. At that time Wayne and Rush counties formed a judicial circuit, and it is presumed that Gov. Morton acted as judge pro tem, since he was judge only one term.

SCHOOL HEADS TO MEET IN ANDERSON

Prof. J. H. Scholl Will Attend Meeting of Superintendent's Association There Tomorrow.

WAS HELD HERE LAST YEAR

Prof. J. H. Scholl, superintendent of the local schools, will attend the fourth annual meeting of the Central Indiana School Superintendents Association tomorrow in Anderson. The meeting of the school heads was held here last year and was attended by some twenty or twenty-five men.

The first hour of the afternoon will be devoted to visiting schools. At 2:30 p. m. the association will convene for a round table discussion of topics pertaining to the school work. At 5 p. m. all of the visitors will be invited to take a plunge in the swimming pool at the Manual Training high school. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. The superintendent will resume the round table discussion at 7:30. Twenty-four subjects have been prepared for discussion.

Mrs. Panthea Smiley of North Harrison street, who is very sick, is very little improved today.

LOCAL HORSEMEN ATTEND.

A number of local horsemen are attending the annual Lackey horse sale at Cambridge City. Yesterday Robert B. Cook of Falmouth sold Mary Evelyn, a black trotting mare, to H. W. Jenner of Lawrenceburg, Ill., for $310.

DATES ASSIGNED FOR FAIR MEETS

Eastern Indiana Association, of Which This City is Member, Held Important Meeting.

MAXIMUM PURSE TO BE $300

Arrangements For Coming Season Completed—Rushville Fair Will be August 20 to 23.

Representatives of the different fair associations, composing the Eastern Indiana circuit of which this city is a member, met in Muncie on Tuesday and transacted considerable important business.

The purpose of the meeting was to fix the dates of the fairs and to equalize the purses in the different classes of races. Heretofore each fair has been putting up the amount of money it thought best to offer and there was sometimes great difference in the amounts offered by the different fairs. The conclusion was reached that the minimum purse offered would be $200 and the maximum $300 outside the county or road races. The dates fixed were from July 16th to August 31 starting with the Oneida fair and ending with the Shelbyville fair. Fairmount was granted the privilege of holding a two days' race meet July 4th and 5th under the rules of the association. They have built a new track and propose to dedicate it at the time of their races, which will be six weeks before the date of their fair.

Each meeting provides for three-year-old trotters and three-year-old pacers. Two hundred dollars is offered for each colt race through the entire circuit and for all other classes $300 is provided. The circuit will be known as the "three hundred dollar circuit" and all members will be members of the American Trotting association, and the rules of that association will govern the meetings.

The following dates have been assigned for the Eastern Indiana Fair circuit for the coming season: Fairmount, July 4 to 5; Poneto, July 8 to 11; Montpelier, July 16 to 19; Marion, July 22 to 26; Middletown, July 30 August 2; Muncie, August 6 to 9; Newcastle, August 13 to 16; Fairmount, August 20 to 23; Elwood, August 20 to 23; Shelbyville, August 21 to 31, and Portland, September 2 to 6. All dates are inclusive.

The members of the association are arranging good racing programs and it is hoped to make this season the most successful of any in recent years.

DISPATCHER AVOIDS WRECK.

Shelbyville Republican: A west-bound passenger train on the Big Four railway, which was running a few minutes late yesterday afternoon, by the quick action of Francis Moore, chief train dispatcher of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, Greensburg division doubtless prevented what would have been a bad wreck between Fairland and Shelbyville by notifying the engineer a brake beam was dragging.

WOULD OUST SALOON.

Shelbyville Republican: A petition is now being circulated in Noble township which asks the county commissioners to set a date upon which an election will be held to decide whether saloons can continue to exist at St. Paul. There is now one saloon there and it is on the Shelby county side in Noble township. The township in which the Decatur side of St. Paul is situated has already voted dry, hence there can be no saloons in St. Paul except they be in Noble township, Shelby county.

THE REBELS LOSE A SOURCE OF SUPPLY

Embargo Placed On Shipments of Arms Into Mexico.

Washington, March 14.—To thwart a gigantic conspiracy on the part of the old leaders under the Diaz regime in Mexico to promote the present revolution against Madero, this government has taken decisive action. While the United States government has no evidence directly connecting the deposed president with his conspiracy, it is asserted that his former friends and supporters are behind it. A sum of money, estimated at $4,000,000, has been deposited in banks of El Paso for the purpose of buying arms and ammunition to be shipped from the United States into Mexico for use of the revolutionists.

It was chiefly this startling information that led President Taft to call together the members of the Texas delegation in congress and the senate committee on foreign relations. The situation, in the president's opinion, was serious enough to warrant extraordinary action. This action took the form of a joint resolution presented to the senate empowering the president to issue in his discretion a proclamation preventing the shipment of arms and ammunition from the United States into any foreign country. This resolution was referred immediately to the foreign relations committee, was promptly reported back favorably, and unanimously passed by the senate. A similar resolution was put through the same course in the house. This action will be a notable strengthening of the president's arm in dealing with neutrality matters, not only with Mexico, but with all other Central American countries in time of trouble.

Had Been Looking For It.

South Bend, Ind., March 14.—Charles Frank, a groceryman here, nearly fainted when informed by a newspaper reporter that his wife, Mrs. Rebecca Frank, had been murdered in Louisville, Ky., by her former husband, Clinton McCarthy. "I have feared this would happen," said Frank, "for McCarthy has forced his attentions on her and she would have nothing to do with him. He separated us when we lived together, but I am sorry for her."

Taft Victorious.

Ten delegates to the Republican national convention, instructed to vote for President Taft, were elected Tuesday, which makes the total number of Taft delegates soar to 123. So far Roosevelt has no delegates worth mentioning. About the only intimation of delegates for the former president are two from the Kansas City district, where two sets of delegates were elected, one set being instructed for Taft and the other for Roosevelt. About a hundred uninstructed delegates have been chosen and Taft claims them all.

The ex-president expects to appropriate a few of the delegates in the elections in Oklahoma the latter part of this week. Massachusetts Republicans in Washington are almost a unit in saying that Taft will sweep the State at the popular primary if one is held. Furthermore, the list of Taft delegates is increasing daily, and before the end of the week the showing will be most remarkable in favor of Mr. Taft's renomination.

The President is making his gains in sections of the country where they were least expected. For example, he carried two districts in Iowa, the Sixth and the Ninth, and has a fair prospect of carrying still another, the Eighth, if one may judge from the result of county conventions already held in that district. In South Dakota the Roosevelt cause appeared so weak within a few days that the Roosevelt managers have withdrawn from the contest and left the field to Senator LaFollette, who will wage the contest against President Taft. In North Dakota the outlook is very unfavorable for Roosevelt.

The Indianapolis correspondent of the Enquirer telegraphs his paper as follows:

Unless there is a very material change in the situation during the next few days, at least three-fourths of the Indiana delegates elected to the Republican national convention will favor the renomination of President Taft.

Nothing short of a political miracle will bring about the election of a solid Roosevelt delegation from this State. It is not probable, but possible that the entire thirty delegates will be elected in behalf of the President.

Party leaders concede that the situation in Indiana is without parallel as far as the Republicans are concerned, and that it is difficult to place a finger on the average worker and to declare positively where he stands. Lines are crossed as never before. Men who have stood with the old organization are coming out for Colonel Roosevelt, while some of former Senator A. J. Beveridge's ardent lieutenants are lining up in the open for President Taft. Since Colonel Roosevelt delivered his speech at Columbus, Ohio, many of the so-called progressives have quit him and have taken up the cause of the President.

The impression is becoming more general that the President is gaining ground rapidly, and that he is going to carry most of the districts. The fight not only is intense but bitter. Republicans who regarded Colonel Roosevelt as a sure winner because of the magic of his name among a large element, are coming to the conclusion that he will be harder to elect than President Taft.

An editor of a leading Republican organ, who is for Colonel Roosevelt, discussing this feature of the situation, said: "I have come to the conclusion that the Republicans who are saying they won't vote for Colonel Roosevelt mean it, and it will be harder to line them up in case he is nominated than it will be to convince the anti-Taft Republicans that it is their duty to the party to vote for the President. The Republicans who are declaring they won't vote for Colonel Roosevelt are generally those who are opposed to the third term proposition and to the initiative, the referendum and the recall. I think, however, that Colonel Roosevelt's advocacy of the recall is the big obstacle we will have to overcome if he should be nominated."

The railroad bringing the early mail into Rushville might have some excuse for delivering the mail to Rushville three or four hours late when unusually cold weather prevailed, but now that the temperature is very moderate it seems that the company which has the contract with the United States to deliver the mail with as much alacrity as possible, might be a little more prompt. This morning the eastbound mail train which is due here at 5:28 did not arrive until 8:41 and most business men were unable to get their morning mail before nine o'clock.

C. G. Clark & Sons,
Rushville, Indiana.,
Gentlemen—

I have tried many kinds of flour, and combinations of flours, and for all purposes I find "CLARK'S PURITY" the best I have ever used. It gives cakes a fine grain, makes bread sweet and white, and may be used perfectly for all kinds of pastry. This makes it cheaper in the long run than other grades. Where one must mix spring and winter wheat flours to get results it increases the already high cost of living. QUALITY and ECONOMY lead me to use "CLARK'S PURITY"

Very truly yours,
MRS. C. M. YOCUM.

They were too wet and cold to sleep. There was no shelter and it was not until early in the morning they succeeded in kindling a fire. Meanwhile the men talked the situation over very carefully. They were two days' journey from the wagons. It was necessary that the women and children should be taken back at once. Kirkby hadn't been able to save much more than enough to eat to get them back to a ranch or settlement, and on very short rations at best. It was finally decided that George and Pete and Mrs. Maitland, the two girls and the youngest, should go back to the wagon, drive to the nearest settlement, leave the women and then return on horseback with all speed to meet Maitland and Kirkby, who would meanwhile search the canon.

The two men from the east had to go back with the others, although they pleaded gallantly to be allowed to remain with the two who were to take up the hunt for Enid. Maitland might have kept them with him, but that meant retaining a larger portion of the scanty supplies that had been saved and he was compelled against his will to refuse their requests. Leaving barely enough to subsist Maitland and Kirkby for three or four days, or until the return of the relief party, the groups separated at daybreak.

"Oh, Robert," pleaded his wife, as he kissed her good bye, "take care of yourself, but find Enid."

"Yes," answered her husband, "I shall, never fear, but I must find the dear girl or discover what has become of her."

There was not time for further leave taking. A few handclaps from man to man and then Robert Maitland, standing in the midst of the group, bowed his head in the sunny morning, for the sky again was clear, and poured out a brief prayer that God would prosper them, that they would find the child and that they would all be together again in health and happiness. And without another word, he and Kirkby plunged down to the side of the canon, the others taking up their weary march homeward with sad hearts and in great dismay.

CHAPTER VIII.

A Telegram and a Caller.

"You say," asked Maitland, as they surveyed the canon, "that she went down the stream?"

"She said she was goin' down. I showed her how to cut across the mountains an' avoid the big bend. I've got no reason to suspicion that she didn't go where she said."

"Nevertheless," said Maitland, "it is barely possible that she may have changed her mind and gone up the canon."

"Yep, the female mind does often change unexpected like," returned the other, "but whether she went up or down, the only place for us to look, I take it, is down, for if she's alive, if she got out of the canon and is above us, nacherly she'd follow it down yere an' we'd a seed her by this time. If she didn't git out of the canon, why, all that's left of her is bound to be down stream."

Maitland nodded. He understood. "We'd better go down, then," continued Kirkby, whose reasoning was flawless except that he made no allowance for the human-divine interposition that had been Enid Maitland's salvation, "an' if we don't find no trace of her down stream, we kin come back here an' go up."

It was a hard, desperate journey the two men took. One of them followed the stream at its level, the other tramped along in the mountains high above the high water mark of the day before. If they had needed any evidence of the power of that cloudburst and storm, they found it in the canon. In some places where it was narrow and rocky the pass had been fairly scoured; at other places the whole aspect of it was changed. The place was a welter of uprooted trees, logs jammed together in fantastic shapes; it was as if some wanton besom of destruction had swept the narrow rift.

Ever as they went they called and called. The broken obstructions of the way made their progress slow. What they would have passed over ordinarily in half a day, they had not traversed by nightfall and they had seen nothing. They camped that night far down the canon and in the morning, with hearts growing heavier every hour, they resumed their search. About noon of the second day they came to an immense log jam where the stream now broadened and made a sudden turn before it plunged over a fall of perhaps two hundred feet into the lake. It was the end of their quest. If they did not find her there, they would never do so. With still hearts and bated breath they climbed cut over the log jam and scrutinized it. A brownish gray patch concealed beneath the great pines caught their eyes. They made their way to it.

"It's a bar, a big Grizzly," exclaimed Kirkby.

The huge brute was battered out of all semblance of life, but that it was a Grizzly Bear was clearly evident. Further on the two men caught sight suddenly of a dash of blue. Kirkby stepped over to it, lifted it in his hand and silently extended it to Maitland. It was a sweater, a woman's sweater. They recognized it at once. The old man shook his head. Maitland groaned aloud.

"See yere," said Kirkby, pointing to the ragged and torn garment where evidences of discoloration still remained, "looks like there'd bin blood on it."

"Great God!" cried Maitland, "not that bear; I'd rather anything than that."

"Whatever it is, she's gone," said the old man with solemn finality. "Her body may be in those logs there—"

FRANTIC WITH ECZEMA

Itching and Burning Drive One Almost Mad.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Children, and grown persons, too, are so often driven almost frantic with the intolerable itching and burning of eczema and other skin troubles, that a remedy which will not only secure their immediate comfort, but also clear away the eruption in a short time, is nothing less than a public benefit.

It is remarkable that so mild and harmless an application as our new skin remedy, Saxon Salve, can stop the itching so quickly as it does.

And its penetrating healing power is even more remarkable, for improvement is seen after the first few days and the final results must satisfy the user or we refund the money.

If you have any itching, or burning rash or humor of the skin, any sealy or chronic old skin trouble, Saxon Salve is what you need and you should try this splendid remedy. F. B. Johnson & Co. Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

"Or in the lake," answered Kirkby, gloomily, "but where ever she is we can't git to her now."

"We must come back with dynamite to break up this jam and—"

"Yep," nodded the old man, "we'll do all that, of course, but now, after we search this jam o' logs I guess there's nothin' to do but go back, an' the quicker we git back to the settlement, the quicker we can git back here. I think we can strike across the mountains an' save a day an' a half; there's no need of us goin' back up the canon now. I take it."

"No," answered the other, "the quicker the better, as you say, and we can head off George and the others that way."

They searched the pile eagerly, prying under it, peering into it, upsetting it, so far as they could with their naked hands, but with little result, for they found nothing else. They had to camp another day, and next morning they hurried straight over the mountains, reaching the settlement almost as soon as the others. Maitland with furious energy at once organized a relief party. They hurried back to the logs, tore the jam to pieces, searched it carefully and found nothing. To drag the lake was impossible. It was hundreds of feet deep and while they worked it froze. The weather had changed some days before, heavy snows had already fallen; they had to get out of the mountains without further delay or else be frozen up to die. Then and not till then did Maitland give up hope. He had refrained from wiring to Philadelphia, but when he reached a telegraph line some ten days after the cloudburst, he sent a long message east, breaking to his brother the awful tidings.

And in all that they did he and Kirkby, two of the shrewdest and most experienced of men, showed with singular exactitude how easy it is for the wisest and most capable of men to make mistakes, to leave the plain trail, to fail to deduce the truth from the facts presented. Yet it is difficult to point to a fault in their reasoning, or to find anything left undone in the search!

Enid had started down the canon; near the end of it they had discovered one of her garments which they could not conceive any reason for her taking off. It was near the battered body of one of the biggest Grizzlies that either man had ever seen, it had evidence of blood stains upon it; still, they had found no body, but they were as profoundly sure that the mangled remains of the poor girl lay within the depths of that mountain lake as if they had actually seen her there. The logic was all flawless.

It so happened that on that November morning, when the telegram was approaching him, Mr. Stephen Maitland had a caller. He came at an un-

"This, I suppose," he thought testily, "is one of the results of Enid's wanderings into that God-forsaken land. Did you ask the man his business, James?" he said aloud to the footman.

"Yes, sir. He said he wanted to see you on important business, and when I made bold to ask him what business, he said it was none of mine, and for me to take the message to you, sir."

BIG INDICTMENT OF 128 COUNTS

Judge Anderson Bunches the Dynamite Cases.

ADOPTED AS THE BETTER PLAN

Upon Motion of the District Attorney, Federal Court Decides to Consolidate the Thirty-Two Indictments in the Dynamite Cases Into One Case as a Means of Simplifying Proceedings When Cause Goes to Trial.

Indianapolis, March 14.—In federal court Judge Anderson ordered the consolidation of the thirty-two indictments in the dynamite cases into one case. This makes one big indictment of 128 counts, twenty-eight of which charge conspiracy and an even one hundred of which charge specific violations of the law regulating the safe transportation of explosives.

While the government will go into the trial Oct. 1 on all 128 counts, the defense will not have to defend against all the conspiracy counts, as Judge Anderson said after the evidence of the government had been introduced the government probably would be compelled to elect on what conspiracy count it would stand. The motion to consolidate the thirty-two dynamite cases, in each of which there are fifty-four defendants, was made by United States Attorney Miller.

Judge Anderson said as he was assured by the district attorney in court that the evidence in all the conspiracy cases would be the same and that the evidence to support the other indictments would be admissible under the conspiracy indictments, the consolidation of all the cases into one seemed to be the better plan.

The large number of conspiracy indictments, however, furnished the "hitch" in the plan, leading to some argument and deliberation before the court ordered the consolidation. Judge Anderson said his idea was that there was one conspiracy and could be only one, and that he could not understand how a conspiracy could occur in about thirty different ways. He said he was not of the opinion that at least forty-six men ought to be compelled to meet thirty charges based on one offense.

NO MORE FLIRTING

South Bend Going to Put a Stop to Street "Mashing."

South Bend, Ind., March 14.—An ordinance against public flirting has just been passed here. Both men and women come under its strict provisions, and a heavy penalty is provided for those who violate it. The maximum fine is $100, and to this may be added a jail sentence of thirty days. The new ordinance, which passed the city council with only one dissenting vote, is aimed at the male flirt and woman street walker. However, a woman may be held for flirting the same as a man, and is liable to an equally heavy fine. Loafing about any public place or building constitutes an offense, if indulged in by either men or women, and the violator is liable to arrest and imprisonment.

SEYMOUR PLEASURES WITH FIRST TALK

Lectures at High School on "Abraham Lincoln"—at Main Street Christian Church Sunday.

IS GRADUATE OF DARTMOUTH

The first of a series of lectures at the high school by Prof. Charles W. Seymour, was given yesterday afternoon. The subject was "Abraham Lincoln" and was considered one of the best ever given here by Mr. Seymour. The lecture attracted a large number of visitors to the high school. This afternoon he took for his subject, "Alexander the Great." Prof. Seymour gave a series of lectures here last year before the high school and once talked at the First Presbyterian church. Monday afternoon the students of the high school will have a choice between a lecture on "Lafayette" or "Lady Jane Grey." Prof. Seymour makes a specialty of historical subjects and after graduating from Dartmouth University traveled in Europe investigating conditions.

Mr. Seymour has consented to talk Sunday night at the Main Street Christian church and will take for his subject, "Harroun al Raschid." Harroun al Raschid was a noted Arabian character in the times of Mohammedanism. His talk will be a history and a lesson from this man's life.

MONJAR WON CLOSE GAME

Defeated Charles Green by Score of 100 to 95.

In what was probably the best game of the pool tournament George Monjar last night defeated Dr. Charles Green, 100 to 95. The contest was very close and at several times the score was tied. Monjar "scratched" four times, and Green six. Monjar made his 104 balls and won out while Green was 101. Tonight Bert Osborn will play Charles Broadhead. Both men have not lost a game and a close contest is expected. Friday night will be ladies' night.
